Stasi is trying to come into the grips of being the Queen of the Haitian Cartel full time without her fathers help. Sometimes she feels as if she can't balance it all but with the help of her friends and family she's making it work. Does she have what it takes to continue to do what she needs to as Queen of The Haitian Cartel? Or will she wither under all of the pressure that is coming her way?

Casey still hasn't gotten over the loss of his grandmother but when he receives a letter from his dad he doesn't know what to do. After all these years he thought his father didn't care about him. Casey then learns that his grandmother had been keeping some secrets and he's desperate to find out what it is. In the midst of trying to get some valuable information Casey is almost killed and tries to figure out who has it out for him. Casey is starting to think that all of the drama coming his way is because of Stasi and the Haitian Cartel. Can he handle the drama that seems to find him no matter where he turns?

Javon is still holding on to the question of is he Marissa's baby's father? But he also realizes that things were to good to be true so he tries to forget Marissa and the baby. He still harbors a lot of hate for Chris. The ultimate question is will he get his revenge on Chris or will he continue to keep him under watchful eye?

Javon is put in a unfortunate situation and if he doesn't find out who is behind it things might not turn out so well for him.

Janeiro is trying to take things a little further with Kari but she seems to become a little too clingy for him. Janeiro soon finds out that the mystery woman is someone that he thought he had lost years ago. What will he do when he finds out who she really is and what she has set out to do?

Things for everyone are starting to unravel fast and if everyone doesn't get a grasp on things there may be nomore of the Haitian Cartel. Sit back while we see how everyone will manage their circumstances in the final installment of All is Fair in Love and Drugs.
